Yeah I get what you are saying. Any amount of images is great though so thanks.

My website will be uploaded in the next few weeks at www.craig-allington.co.uk/thesubways if you wish to look.

Thanks again,

Craig

A link would be fine. The photos on the Subways website show my shots from Reading Festival, there are many live and reportage shots. I am trying to keep the rest of my photos for an exhibition I am planning as they haven't really been seen apart from on my site at the time of shooting and some were on the old Subways site. They haven't been seen in press. So it will make the exhibition more exciting, if you get what I'm saying.

Hi Stuart,

I don't need too many photos, I mainly need just a few live shots of the band and a few individual photos that is about all.

I've not looked on The Subways site for photos at present (Ben gave me permission to use their MySpace photos) is there a section with photos by yourself?

Also how would you like to be credited? Will a link in the footer of the site be ok or do you want to be credited with each photo?

Thanks,
Craig

I have been photographing The Subways for the past 3 years. There are many photos. How many do you need? You are welcome to pull them off the Subways site and use them, as long as you credit me. There should be sufficient numbers on there for your fansite project.

Hi Stuart,

I'm a student at Wakefield college studying web design (www.hnd-interactive-media.co.uk) and am currently in the process of designing a Subways fansite as one of my projects.

I'm looking for some photos of The Subways which I can use on my site and was wondering if it would be possible to use any photos you have taken of the band.

The site will be viewable to the public on my portfolio site but all images can be credited to you if you wish.

If this is possible are all the images you have on the site or would it be possible for you to send me any more?

Regards,

Craig Allington

Cheers Ben,

Do you have any preference as to if the site was viewable to the public or not? And if not who should be credited?

If you are interested the final website will be viewable at www.craig-allington.co.uk/thesubways

Cheers again,

Craig

It can be either. If possible to the public (though all images would be clearly credited and linked on every page) though if it was to be a huge problem I could limit who could view it.

Is it to be made viewable to the public or just the course?

Hi Ben,

I'm currently developing a student fan site about the subways for my course (www.hnd-interactive-media.co.uk).

Can you tell me if I can use some pictures of the guys for the site (taken from the MySpace, forum etc.?)

If there's any specific ones it's ok to use could you possibly let me know which or send them on to me.

Much appreciated if you can help out,

Craig
